

Breege Jinks

I am Deputy Head Academic at Seaford College and live in Duncton Village. My career in Education has been devoted to School Effectiveness and Improvement. Prior to taking up my current role at Seaford College I spent 22 years teaching and leading the management of teaching of Mathematics in a variety of schools in West Sussex as well as Senior Leadership roles.

My first degree, a Joint Honours in Mathematics and Economics was followed by postgraduate research in Econometrics, specifically investigating The Determinants of Investment within Models of the UK Economy. My MA research focussed on School Improvement and Effectiveness and further research in this area was completed during my studies for the National Professional Qualification for Headteachers. I sit on the Teaching and Learning Committee.

I passionately believe that well led schools have the ability to transform pupils' lives and I am delighted to hold the position of Community Governor at this superb school.

My hobbies include music, reading and spending time with my wonderful family and friends
